Patients have the right to be informed in advance of care being provided, and of the charges, including payment expected from third parties and any charges for which the patient will be responsible. Patients have the right to receive information about the scope of services provided and any limitations on those services.
- The Right to Choose. Patients have the right to a choice of health care providers sufficient to assure access to appropriate high-quality health care.

Patients who are unable to fully participate in treatment decisions have the right to be represented by parents, guardians, family members, or other conservators. Patients have the right to refuse care or treatment after the consequences of refusing care or treatment are fully presented.
- Care Without Discrimination. Patients have the right to considerate, respectful care and recognition of dignity and individuality from all members of the health care industry at all times and under all circumstances. Patients must not be discriminated against in the marketing or enrollment or in the provision of health care services, consistent with the benefits covered in their policy and/or as required by law, based on race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sex, age, current or anticipated mental or physical disability, sexual orientation, genetic information, or source of payment.

Patients also have the right to review and copy their own medical records and request changes to their records. Patients have the right to be advised on the agency's policies and procedures regarding the disclosure of clinical records.

changes in policy, personnel, or care without restraint, interference, coercion, discrimination, or reprisal.

- The Right to Speedy Complaint Resolution. Patients have the right to a fair and efficient process for resolving differences with their health plans, health care providers, and the institutions that serve them, including a rigorous system of internal review and an independent system of external review. We will respond to your complaint within five days and, barring unforeseen or unusual issues, will resolve it in within 14 days.
- The Right to Be Informed of Charges. We will bill your insurance carrier for products we supply you. Barring unforeseen or unusual issues, the typical charge is $550 - $700 per wound. For example, if you have three wounds, the charge would likely be $1,650 - $2,100. We will notify you of any change in this estimate within 30 days of our learning of it. You are responsible for copays (determined by your particular insurance coverage, but typically in the range of 20% - 40% of applicable charges) and deductibles unless you have Medicaid or other supplemental insurance. If you cannot pay, you may request a hardship waiver. We will not bill you for any claims that your carrier denies.
- Taking on New Responsibilities. In a health care system that affords patients' rights and protections, patients must also take greater responsibility for maintaining good health.
- Product Warranty. AMT warrants its products to be merchantable and fit for their intended purpose for a period of three (3) months after delivery and disclaims all other warranties. AMT will cover the cost of product returns and will provide replacement products at no charge if covered by this warranty.
